

About James Lee Witt Associates

Founded in 2001, James Lee Witt Associates (Witt Associates), a part of GlobalOptions Group, is a public safety and crisis management consulting firm based in Washington, D.C., with offices located throughout the country. Witt Associates has unrivaled experience and hands-on knowledge of emergency preparedness, response, recovery and mitigation. Witt Associates bridges government agencies and non-profits with industry and citizens as they assist state and local governments to prepare for and recover from disasters and crisis.

Witt Associates is uniquely positioned to bring together policy architects and technical experts in public safety, with leaders from all levels of government and private sector partners to forge solutions to emergency management challenges.

Our team includes seasoned crisis and emergency management leaders with significant experience in the public sector to provide consultation on key issues of public safety. The team is proficient in the details of emergency management, committed to the responsibility of the profession, and understands how crisis and emergency management work fits into a larger political and social climate.

Our Mission

The mission of Witt Associates is to make a difference globally to reduce the risks and impacts associated with all hazards, by providing high value services to government and business.
